

Franklin Daniel, An Unhappy New Year

Remember , you'll always be in my heart
Even when you've forgotten me and moved far
The pain and grief your words have done.
How can I tell you, how shattered I am?
I'm having an unhappy new year
Wishing you were here
Darling I think of you everyday
I don't know if I could face another day

No longer I sense feelings,
It is as if I was, alone on this earth.
There billions of stars surround, none I can reach and touch,
None I can ask to be mine, though before me they shined.
I'm having an unhappy new year
Wishing you were here
Darling I think of you everyday
I don't know if I could face another day
