

Freddie Hart, Loving You Again

(Helplessly but willingly loving you again)
I left you for the last time twenty times ago
Told everything except my mem'ry how can let you go
But you're just like a magnet and I'm a piece of tin
Oh I woke up this morning loving you again
Loving you again is just like begging to be hurt
Asking to be walked on but confessing I'm just dirt
But everytime you kick me out I find my way back in
Helplessly but willingly loving you again
[steel - piano]
Yes loving you again is just like begging...
Helplessly but willingly loving you again
Helplessly but willingly loving you again
