

Freddy Litwiniuk, Apart

I dont like you when youve been drinking
Cause it means youre not thinking
Say things you might regret

But I am still attached to your strings
And you make me feel drunk too
Its not over yet

Listen to the things that youre claiming
You pretend its not raining
When were both soaking wet

I just wanna take you apart now
Wont play with your heart now
I just wanna see if its broken
If the words that I spoke
Can put it back the right way
But I dont think that I should stay the night
I dont think that I should stay the night

I dont like you when youre with your friends
Guilty nights and lost weekends
Walk a line without a net

You insist your love is still burning
Do you still feel that yearning
When you lie in his bed

Choking on the dirt of devotion
Is a drop in the ocean
If you want what you get
What you get

I just wanna take you apart now
Wont play with your heart now
I just wanna see if its broken
If the words that I spoke
Can put it back the right way
But I dont think that I should stay the night
I dont think that I should stay the night

You dream Im wrong
You dream Im right
But you shake it off and you say goodnight
And if that time dont ever come
Will you still be fine
Fine

Listen to the things that youre claiming
You pretend its not raining
When were both soaking wet
Soaking wet
