Freedom Call, Warriors

At night, high up in the heavens we fight Faster than lightning we strike Like fires that rip through the night Surrounded by light

Raging thunder in the skies Time has come to sacrifice

We are warriors, born from the light An army for freedom, defenders of life Warriors, euphoria will rise Returning from darkness we bury all lies

The knights, outcast and lost in the skies Returning to heaven denid Louder than thunder we ride Ready to strike

Call for us and you will survive Follow us to paradise

We are warriors, born from the light An army for freedom, defenders of life Warriors, euphoria will rise Returning from darkness we bury all lies

Here we are, the warriors of light Here we are, we came from the night Here we are, the warriors of light Here we are, euphoria will rise

We are warriors, born from the light An army for freedom, defenders of life Warriors, euphoria will rise Returning from darkness we bury all lies

We are warriors, born from the light Warriors, euphoria will rise Returning from darkness we bury all lies
