Frente!, Air

you wanted to be weightless you didn't want to wait...

we are the sad sad people those scared scared scared eyes insane unseen on island inside inside out minds unbeing dead isn't being alive what's wrong with the air, what's wrong with the air what's wrong with the air, what's wrong with the air?

the red line when the sky ends the pretty ugly lives can't take your car to heaven can't take god for a drive

in mourning for the morning, you laughed yourself into the afternoon you thought was endless you wanted to be weightless

around you, around you...

you wanted to be weightless you didn't want to wait you wanted to be weightless you didn't want to wait you wanted to be brainless you didn't want to think you wanted to be shameless you didn't want to want to
