

Frenzal Rhomb, Don't Speak

Don't speak when you're spoken to

If you can't say something nice just say what you like and if you can say what you like don't say shit

If you want to speak your mind watch and you will find that no-one cares and if they care then they won't want to know

I know your resistance is futile

Don't be afraid to say whatever comes your way because if you don't you will regret it and your pride will go If you want to wait in line don't walk across it If you want to, fine or if you don't you should never try

I know your resistance is futile
When you're never saying what's on your mind
