

Frenzal Rhomb, Here Today Gone Late Today

Good to know that you've been had
Time to tell you that your life's so bad
You show no difference between camps
Not looking forward to those morning cramps

Here today gone late today

You're one fascinating type
It's so amazing how you read between the lines
The t.v. shows you what to do
But it can't tell you what it thinks of you

The politics you can replace
With looking for the truth in melrose place
Now you know that it's the best
To find the answers in central park west
