Frenzal Rhomb, Here Today Gone Late Today

Good to know that you've been had Time to tell you that your life's so bad You show no difference between camps Not looking forward to those morning cramps

Here today gone late today

You're one fascinating type It's so amazing how you read between the lines The t.v. shows you what to do But it can't tell you what it thinks of you

The politics you can replace
With looking for the truth in melrose place
Now you know that it's the best
To find the answers in central park west