

Frenzal Rhomb, Home Made Video

You shook us all up
You tripped us all out
You want to go far
At home you're a star
To tell you the truth
I didn't know it was you
Beyond the limit, so poorly lit
It's alright, you can't see your face at all
It's alright, you can see your weren't so obscene, 'til the cinema queen
We weren't to know, put on quite a show
It's alright, you can't see your face at all
It's alright, you can't see your face
And now my blood runs cold
As my memory unfolds
In the background it was raining
Those familiar sounds
Bury my head in my hands
On the screen my face is smiling
It's alright
