

Freya, It's Already Wednesday

It's Already Wednesday

Yesterday I painted our bathroom in all sorts of colors
And the day before I slept in, before I went shopping
And I cooked our meal, seemed to forget the dishes
And I saw a little TV and went to bed...

Now it's already Wednesday - half the week is gone
Yet another Wednesday of things I haven't done
The week flies by like an aeroplane, that's got no destination
And now it's already Wednesday - How'd three days get wasted?!?

And today I went to an interview for a boring job
And the lady there was boring too - I started to fade away
Yet I smiled and begged, which took time and energy
Though she pissed me off - I could really, really use the money ...

Now it's already Wednesday - half the week is gone
Yes another Wednesday of things I haven't done
The week flies by like an aeroplane, that's got no destination
And now it's already Wednesday - How'd three days get wasted?!?

It's already Wednesday yeah yeah yeah, yeah yeah yeah - It's already Wednesday
I'll make a list of things to do (and) get as much as I can Cross off what's done - carry the rest to the next day
John and Poul had "eight days a week"; - maybe I could borrow one

Now cause it's already Wednesday - half the week is gone
Yet another Wednesday of things I haven't done
The week flies by like an aeroplane, that's got no destination
And now it's already Wednesday - How'd three days get wasted?!?

It's already Wednesday yeah yeah yeah, yeah yeah yeah - It's already Wednesday
It's already Wednesday yeah yeah yeah, yeah yeah yeah - It's already Wednesday