

From First To Last, When Flying Feels Like Fallin

It's days like these, that make me feel like I want to bleed through my heart again It's days like these, that make me feel like I might as well be on my own again

I take back everything I said about loving you Now that you've left me on the ground I can fly away to someone new Don't pretend like I don't know you're untrue

I never meant to bring you down nothing but good intentions
I never meant to bring you down

Take it back this time i'll just move on Take my heart, make it grey I'll never forget
