

Fur Patrol, The Lover

was it not hurt enough to feel?
was it not cage enough to hold your head inside?

you will not find me waiting you will not see me smile

this is the lover that you left me for i hope you're happy too was it not hell enough to burn?

was it not smoke enough to suffocate you?

i won't be waiting for you i will be hiding from you this is the lover that i left you for

i hope you're happy too

was it not gold enough to steal was it not steel enough to make you want to hold your head inside?
...and cry?

we've gone too far to go the distance we've gone too far to go
we've gone too far to go the distance
we've gone too far to go
we've gone too far to go the distance
we've gone too far to go
we've gone too far to go the distance we go...

this is the lover that you left me for this is the lover that you left me for
this is the lover that you left me for
