

Further Seems Forever, How To Start A Fire

let's set this city ablaze we'll burn down the monuments and build mountains in our place we could see everything we could start a fire and all shine in it's light shine so bright we burn in eyes and heal the stories ending

this is the last time we will ever bleed to feel alive

consider this a rehearsal your heart of hearts rekindled catching the fruits of our labors and holding our hearts in our hands waiting for you to sound a prayer in the form of a anchor replied by holding you up in red skies bound by love

let's set this city ablaze we'll learn how to start a fire shine so bright we burn our eyes
