

Gabrielle, Falling

How could I know when I first met you
I was falling in love, never wanting to Cause out of the blue you went my way
So lost for words, don't know what to say

It's a craving
Feels like in misbehaving
Feels like I'm going crazy
Only you can save me

I'm falling but I can't stop- can't stop
A little bit of you is never enough
Feels like I'm falling-falling
Feels like a new day's dawning

Try as I might I just can't hide
When you came you unlocked all I had inside
Like a piece of puzzle that slots in fine
You came in my life and you made it right
Just a feeling -feeling
It's not just my heart you're stealing
You know all there is to know
Cause you've seen inside my soul

I'm falling but I can't stop- can't stop
A little bit of you is never enough
Feels like I'm falling-falling
Feels like a new day's dawning

You're on my mind all the time, morning, noon and night
Without you, without love
I just can't survive no

It's a craving
Feels like in misbehaving
Feels like I'm going crazy
Only you can save me

I'm falling but I can't stop- can't stop
A little bit of you is never enough
Feels like I'm falling-falling
Feels like a new day's dawning
