

Gabz, Lighters (The One)

Put your lighters in the air,
if you've ever felt scared,
'cos you've lost the one, who was the one.

Put your lighters in the sky,
if you're sleeping alone tonight,
'cos you've lost the one, who was the one.

You are my best friend and boy friend all at the same time,
it's funny to think I've known you my whole life,
I can't even remember a time when we weren't together, thinking back to the time you promised it would last forever.

Put your lighters in the air,
if you've ever felt scared,
'cos you've lost the one, who was the one.

Put your lighters in the sky,
if you're sleeping alone tonight,
'cos you've lost the one, who was the one.
The one, the one the one.

Back then it was so different,
I didn't even have to ask you would listen,
we've been a couple since forever,
it's so weird we ain't together,
and every time I see you I want to cry,
and every time you look at me I die inside.
Now I'm sitting here wondering where's the love gone.
Every one grab their lighters if they left you alone.

Put your lighters in the air,
if you've ever felt scared,
'cos you've lost the one, who was the one.

Put your lighters in the sky,
if you're sleeping alone tonight,
'cos you've lost the one, who was the one.
The one, the one, the one the one.

Put your lighters in the air,
if you've ever felt scared,
'cos you've lost the one, who was the one.
