

Gala, Summer Eclipse

The moon will never touch the sun
The journey I am on, he's not begun
Summer eclipse, I can't forget
The day when night and day had met

I didn't listen to your voice
I could just hear your thoughts inside
We'd know exactly what to say, if we'd forget the world outside

Time separates our lives
So I guess I must say goodbye
Summer eclipse I can't forget
The day when night and day had met

We know the truth
It's hard to lie
We try to avoid each other's eyes
They say our hands should never touch
Rules of love that kill so much
I'll wait for you, if this can't be
We'll meet again in a dream

Time separates our lives
So I guess I must say goodbye
Summer eclipse I can't forget
The day when night and day had met
