

Garou, First Day Of My Life

So I found a reason
To stay alive
To try a little harder
See the other side Talking to myself
Too many sleepless nights
Trying to find a reason
To this stupid life
Don't want your sympathy
Sometimes I don't know who to be
Hey, what you're looking for
No-one knows the answer
They just want more
Hey, who's gonna make it right
This could be the first day of my life
So I found a reason
To let it go
Tell you that I'm smiling
But I still need to grow
Will I find salvation
In the arms of love
Will it stop me searching
Will it be enough
Don't want your sympathy
Sometimes I don't know who to be
Hey, what you're looking for
No-one knows the answer
But you just want more
Hey, who's gonna make it right
This could be the first day of my life
The first time to really feel alive
The first time to break the chain
The first time to walk away from pain
Hey, what you're looking for
No-one has the answer
They just want more
Hey, who's gonna make it right This could be the first day of my life
Hey, what you're looking for
No-one has the answer
They just want more
Hey, who's gonna shine a light
This could be the first day of my life
