

Gary Allan, Trying To Matter

We walk, we fly
We stay sober, we get high
We sleep all day, stay up all night
Right or wrong we live our lives

We work, we play
We leave and we stay
Worry 'bout tomorrow today
We laugh, cry, cuss and pray

Chorus:
Trying to matter to somebody
Trying to get the time of day
We're trying to fit into this crazy world

Somehow, somewhere, some way
Hey, that's all we're all looking for
It's never too late you know
To try and matter to the ones that matter most

I've lived, I've learned
That bridges don't just burn
That's the devil's selfish pride at work
Every chance he gets he'll take his turn

Repeat Chorus Twice

It's never too late you know
Try to matter to somebody
