

Gary Barlow, Don't Need A Reason

Hmm
Oh oh

I know you're still hurting
And you'll never forget
Don't wear your pain no no
Don't wear your regret
You've escaped from the lies that he sold you
You've escaped from deceit
Stood alone until finally I've found you
Believe if you give love
You'll only receive

Don't need a reason to love me
Don't need a reason to care
When you wake in the morning
You'll find I'll always be there

Don't need a reason to want me
You don't need a reason to stay
Just believe in yourself
And you'll find love somewhere out there

I can see now you're thinking
If I'll do the same
If I'll give you all of my heart
Then take it away
You're strong enough to follow,
A black time and still breathe yeah
It's time you unchained from the past
All that I am is everything you see

Don't need a reason to love me
Don't need a reason to care
When you wake in the morning
You'll find I'll always be there
Don't need a reason to want me
Don't need a reason to stay
Just believe in yourself
And you'll find love somewhere out there

So hard to believe
You're the same girl
That you used to be
It's painful to see
You're still hurting
When all you need now
Is the love that lies inside me - me - me

Don't need a reason to love me
You don't need a reason to care
When you wake in the morning
You'll find I'll always be there - oh yeah
Don't need a reason to want me
Don't need a reason to stay
Just believe in yourself
And you'll find love somewhere out there
Somewhere out there...
Yeah
