

Gary Brooker, Pilot

(Mickey Jupp)

You shot me down
You set me up woman then you shot me down
All you did was say "see you around";
You must have known, you must have seen it in my eyes
You must have known, I loved you woman, but now you're gone

I'm a summer, ruined by rain
I'm a pilot, shot down in flames
I'm a sailor, sunk without trace
The last time I saw your face

Why, for heavens sake woman won't you tell me why
Have you ever seen a grown man cry
I'm off my head, I'm going crazy thinking about this things you said
Could be with you but now instead

I'm a summer, ruined by rain
I'm a pilot, shot down in flames
I'm a sailor, sunk without trace
The last time I saw your face

I'm a summer, ruined by rain
I'm a pilot, shot down in flames
I'm a sailor, sunk without trace
The last time I saw your face
