

Gary Moore, Always There For You

The rhythm of our lives is changing day by day.
It seems no matter what I do or what I say,
that I'm always there for you,
but you're never here for me.

So many times you take me halfway to my dreams,
but then you close the door, and every time it seems
that I'm always there for you,
but you're never here for me.
Yes, I'm always there for you,
but you're never here for me.

The rhythm of our lives is changing day by day.
It seems no matter what I do or what I say,
that I'm always there for you,
but you're never here for me.
Yes, I'm always there for you.

I am always there for you,
but you're never here for me.
Yes, I'm always there for you,
but you're never here for me.

I'm always there for you.
I'm always there for you.
I'm always there for you.
I'm always there for you.
