

Gary Numan, Found You Now

I know that you already take as read
I helped you
You know the back of my hand

I wish that we were enchanted
Girl, now I take it for granted

Your love was starin' me right in the heart
Why does our pride make us weak?
While I was wonderin' where to start
You were there to show me
All I had to learn

You were way off the mark
Most of it in the dark
Found you now

Tiny light, give the peace
With which we reach indecision
I guess we lived in the meantime

Till we remembered our first lines

We must have missed a turn
Still got a lot to learn
Found you now

So now we live a life of give and take
Day by day
We don't control where it leads us

If we compare the first day we met
I must admit nothing's changed
I recognize only one regret
Life embarrassments unexpressed

Found you now
Found you now
