

Gary Numan, Radio Heart

I lose myself in the night
Walking the streets in the rain.
I turn away from the light to find the shadows again.

I see her face in the window
I feel the touch of her hand
I hear her voice say "I need you"
I guess I can't understand

Radio Heart
Play a sad song for me
One from the heart
So she'll come back for me
Radio Heart
Send her my love for me

I hear a sound in the night

Could be the turn of a key
And when I switch on the light
It's you I'm hoping to see

Imagination
You play a cruel cool game
Imagination
You leave me calling her name

Radio Heart
Play a sad song for me
One from the heart
So she'll come back for me

The morning after
I find no inspiration
No love no laughter
Just my imagination
