

Gene Clark, Blue Raven

I thought you knew that all of those songs I wrote were about you
Star crossed and sold somehow our harmonies went out of tune
This time the raven is not silver this time the raven's blue
We were the midnight dancers we spun around the silver moon
We were the stone romancers and we had all the answers too

SOLO

This time the raven is not silver this time the raven's blue
I thought you knew that all of those songs I wrote were about you
This time the raven is not silver this time the raven's blue

This time the raven is not silver this time the raven's blue
