

Gene Simmons, Everybody Knows

(Gene Simmons)

[Verse]

You feel that you don't belong
You can't do right and you can't do wrong
Go on singing the same old song
It's okay, it's alright
Better find yourself someone tonight
Take a good hard look inside of your heart...

Oooh, every time you try to walk away
Every time you turn and walk away
Always someone you can turn to with what you say
What you say...

[Chorus]

Everybody Knows
Everybody Knows
Everybody Knows

[Verse]

You tell them you don't have the faith
Knowing much too little is much too late
But it's okay and it's alright
Can't keep buyin' the same old song
And babe, you're time is going to come
Then it won't be long...

Can't you see our world is falling down
Can't you see our world is upside-down
And don't you know what goes around comes around
Comes around...

[Chorus]

Man, no more teachers, preachers gonna stop you doing that
And you finally left your conscience in your past
In your past

Everybody Knows
Everybody Knows
Everybody Knows
Everybody Knows
Everybody Knows
Everybody Knows
Everybody Knows
Everybody Knows
Everybody Knows
Everybody Knows
