

Geoff Moore & The Distance, The In Betweens

I'm gonna read aloud familiar words
And listen for truth that I never have heard
I'm gonna open up to possibilities
I won't be afraid where they are leading me

I've grown tired
Of the end
Being justified
By things that I pretend
Are worth the price
I have paid
That are costing me today

It's not just the end
Or where we begin
It is in the in between
Slowing down
Learning how
To find the life in moments like these

Gonna get the phone and make the call
And say the words I have been putting off
I'll visit my enemies
And offer them the love that was given to me
I believe that Jesus died
So that we would have eternal life
But not only beyond the grave
But eternally today

It's not just the end
Or where we begin
It is in the in between
Slowing down
Learning how
To find the life in moments like these

It's not just the end
Or where we begin
It is in the in between
Slowing down
Learning how
Finding the life in moments like these

It's not just the end
Or where we begin
It is in the in between
Slowing down
Learning how

So before this day ends
And another begins
I will live in the in between
Slowing down
Learning how
To find the life in between
