

George Lamond, It's Always You

If you could read my mind
If you could look inside my heart
The only one you see, its you
It's always you

I've been crying alone for another night
Wishing your love would have treated me right
Wishing that you weren't on my mind
Remembering how, each and every time
We used to say I love you, remember
I wish you remember the morning so bright
And I knew in my heart
Nothing could ever make our love fall apart
And now the thought of losing you
Because of words spoken so untrue
If I could turn back the hands of time
I would make no mistake to redeem our love

Chorus:
If you could read my mind
Everything you see
It's always you
Everything about you

If you look inside my heart
The only one you see
It's always you
Look inside my heart
It's always you

You told me you'd give our trust a chance
A moment to prove that my lies couldn't stand
A minute to look into my eyes
That's all it could have taken to realize
And now the thought of losing you
Because of words spoken so untrue
If I could turn back the hands of time
I would make no mistake to redeem our love

Chorus(2x)

We used to say I love you, remember
I wish you remember the morning so bright
And I knew in my heart
Nothing could ever make our love fall apart
