

Get Up Kids, Don't Hate Me

Forgive me for running off to find the one things I have to do
Each night you can fall asleep assured that someday
I'll be coming home to you
These constant reminders in everything I see
The chance of a lifetime...
What a great place to be
Oh amy
Don't hate me for running away from you
Oh amy
Don't hate me
I'm still in love with you
I'm sorry I can't be everything to you
Your place is at the heart of what I do everything's for you
Every time I run away
It's easier to stay
At the heart the hearts is you in everything I do
