Get Up Kids, Don't Hate Me

Forgive me for runningoff to find the one things I have to do Each night you can fall asleep assured that someday I'll be comeing home to you These constant reminders in everything I see The chance of a lifetime... What a great place to be Oh amy Don't hate me for running away from you Oh amy Don't hate me I'm still in love with you I'm sorry I can't be everything to you Your place is at the heart of what I do everything's for you Every time I run away It's easier to stay At the heart the hearts is you in everything I do
