

Girl In A Coma, Their Cell

So I'm saving all my secrets for a deaf man blabber on I blabber on I stare empty at a wall and make it try to sing along carry on I carry on you're shackled all your pain is stiff tattooed lovers they don't like to reminisce keep pictures of the people you once loved in a safe oh in a safe oh no you lost the combination oh no you have the wrong address scribble names unscramble names oh you're shackled all your pain is stiff I know, I know, I know you're planning your vengeance tattooed lovers they don't like to reminisce who knows, who knows, who knows what name they're screaming now so I'm saving all my secrets for a deaf man blabber on I blabber on and on and on and on
scribble names, unscramble names
see this world is not just a ball of vagueness you can just bounce off
see this world is not just a ball
dear Jane, well I wrote this line to say hope you still can recall my name dear Jane, I wish everything is okay oh Jane, forgive all they may say dear Jane, I wrote this line to say I hope you still can recall my name
