

Give Up The Ghost, Love American

Our love is all that we ever had Our love is all that we'll ever have Boys and girls, guys and dolls
You were finding faith in bathroom stalls and broken beds, spring fractured spines
Fall for the right kids at all the wrong times
And in a world of sluts, we keep this wet dream alive
Yeah, our drought is drying out
You go nowhere in a nowhere town and no one's listening to the sound of breaking down and breaking out is just wishful thinking

We're taking walks around the hearts and homes we'll never own
You go nowhere in a nowhere town and no one's listening to the sound
of breaking down and breaking out is just wishful thinking
You go nowhere in a nowhere town
We're growing up by falling down
We love the songs because we live the songs in condemned flats between the rights and wrongs

And all we know is that we live for now
We love the hearts but the hearts love us even more Desperate and true, thinking of you Borrowed and blue, sinking with you

Keep loving, keep breathing, keep living
