

Glen Campbell, How Do I Tell My Heart Not To B

(How do I tell my heart not to break)

Today I met you on the street I smiled at you and then I tried to speak

But you just turned around and walked away

Tell me what could I do oh what can I say how do I tell my heart not to break

On down the street I saw you run to him

He seemed so happy holdin' you again how many times will he kiss you tonight

Tell me what could I do oh what can I say how do I tell my heart not to break

I know how to tell my eyes to stop crying

I know how to tell my hands not to shake

I know how to tell my friends not to be concerned

But how do I tell oh but what do I say how do I tell my heart not to break

Please don't break how do I tell my heart not to break