

Glenn Miller, I Guess Ill Have To Dream The Rest

I'm stepping out with a memory tonight
To paint the town the way we used to do I'll dine at the old caf where we had so much fun and order cocktails for two instead of the usual one Then after dark in a hansom thru the park
While reminiscing I'll be kissing you
A lot of folks may think that I'm crazy,
Well, maybe they're right
But I'm stepping out with a memory tonight.
