

God Module, Resurrection

Time is changing
We cannot understand
Resurrection violating
My heart is in your hands
We're turning words into different shades of blue
While we hide from all the things that cannot come true

Transforming clouds elevate to heights unseen
A longing for light is tearing at the seams
Time is failing on days that you despise
A never-ending false confession
An excuse to close your eyes