

God's Bow, Cleopatra

There is one world two moons three gods...
You condemned the heaven
You condemned the earth
You consolidated the fire and flames...

There is one world
Of two moons and three gods...

There is one world two moons three gods...
You discovered the other ways
When both of them are wrong
And lead through the maze...