

Godfathers, If I Only Had Time (The Godfathers)

Today a new sun rises
Look in the mirror there's no surprises
Things ain't what they used to be
Cary Grant's on L.S.D.
If I only had time
I'd think of the perfect crime
If I only had time
I'd think of the perfect crime
It's the only way to be
From here to eternity
Things ain't what they used to be
We're living under a false economy
If I only had time
I'd think of the perfect crime
If I only had time
I'd think of the perfect crime
A million mums are hooked on valium
And you should see what you have done to them
Things ain't what they used to be
A generation raised on poverty
If I only had time
I'd think of the perfect crime
If I only had time
I'd think of the perfect crime
Time
Time