

Godgory, Waiting for Lunacy to Find Me

I always knew there would come a day when darkness would fall like a heavy blanket over me it was always there lay beside me when I slept always lurking deep within my mind seeds of lunacy being nursed by feelings of guilt with their bloom comes insanity my fate is cruel but there's a light in the pitching black now my journey's at an end it seems ..at an end at last

see the sign
it's the beginning of the end madness comes pull me inside blow me away

Here it comes rising up from the depths within swallow the fear that rapes my mind distant memories call I hear the echoes of the life I lived for a moment then they fade away ...then they fade away

it's the beginning of the end I'll die tonight goodbye my friends see you in hell
