

Godsmack, Cryin' Like A Bitch

Strut on by like a king
Telling everybody they know nothing,
And long live what you thought you were,
And time ain't on your side anymore (anymore)

And so you tell me I
Can't take my chances,
But I told you one too many times,
And you were crying like a bitch.

I'm tougher than nails.
I can promise you that.
Step out of line
And you get bitch-slapped back.
And you can run
Your little mouth all day,
But the hand of god
Just smacked you back into yesterday

And so you tell me I
Can't take my chances,
But I told you one too many times,
And you were crying like a bitch.

And you wonder why
No one can stand you,
And there's no denying,
You were crying like a bitch.
You were crying like a bitch.

Blinded by
Your sacred faded past times
Only time is your enemy.
Granted a second chance
To prove that your arrogance
Is stronger than you'll ever be.
Is stronger than you can be
Oh, stronger than you can be

And so you tell me
I Can't take my chances,
But I told you one too many times,
And you were crying like a bitch.

And you wonder why
No one can stand you,
And there's no denying,
You were crying like a bitch.

You were crying like a bitch.
You were crying like a bitch.
You were crying like a bitch.
Oh, bitch.
