

Godsmack, I Thought

"(only on Target cd (not pre-ordered) starts at 12:27 on last track)"

Face down licking the concrete child
I thought I knew you oh so well
How many times will she feel so low
How many reasons for her to live in hell

I thought I told you all this too many times
I thought I knew you why'd you keep it silent from me
I thought I told you all this too many times
I thought I knew you why'd you keep it silent from me

Taken in too much anything
They've beaten her down to the ground
And only time will tell me
If shes gonna make it her way or turn it upside down

I thought I told you all this too many times
I thought I knew you why'd you keep it silent from me
I thought I told you all this too many times
I thought I knew you why'd you keep it silent from me

I'm broken down, I know what its like
To want you close to me, baby

A taste, a bite, a sleepless night
Another promise, another dream
She can't confide She'll hold it inside
Till she's losing every inch of reason

I thought I told you all this too many times
I thought I knew you why'd you keep it silent from me
I thought I told you all this too many times
I thought I knew you why'd you keep it silent from me

I'm broken down, I know what its like
To want you close to me, baby
Yeah, no, yeah
