

Goldfinger, Free Me

I didn't ask you to take me from here,
I didn't ask to be broken,
I didn't ask you to stroke my hair,
Or treat me like a worthless token,
But my skin is thick,
And my mind is strong,
I am built like my father was,
I have done nothing wrong

So free me,
I just want to feel how life should be,
I just want enough space to turn around,
And face the truth,
So free me

When are you gonna realise,
You're just wrong,
You cant even think for yourself,
Cant even make up your minds,
So my minds a jail,
And I hate the whole goddamn human race,
What the hell do you want from me,
Kill me if you just dont know,

Or free me,
I just want to feel what life should be,
I just want enough space to turn around,
'Cause you're all fucked,

And maybe someday you'll treat me like you.
