

Goldfinger, It Isn't Just Me

It isn't just me
That wants to be here by your side.
And I know
It isn't just me
That wants to be next to your side.
And I know
I only want to hold you.
Is that asking way to much?
I only want to feel you...

You're so far away,
I guess I'll believe that you care.
And I think
The things that you said
Keep running around in my head.
And I know
I only want to trust you.
You've lied to me before.
Don't know if I can trust you,
In time I'll know for sure.

It's only been three days
Since I have seen your face.
Don't think I can wait three more
I know that I can't wait.

The static on the phone
Makes you so far away.
I watch the clock tick by,
You haven't called today.

It isn't just me
That wants to here by your side
And I know
It isn't just me

And then I fall apart
Waiting for your call.
You don't tell me how you feel
You leave me in the dark.

I guess I blame myself
for staying here with you.
I just want to hear the words,
Say you need me too.
