

Goldie Hill, What Would You Do

You call me a cheater well maybe that's true
But if you could hold heaven what would you do
He offered me true love that I never knew
I saw the door to heaven and just walked through

You'll never believe me I tried to be true
But with heaven at my fingertips what else could I do
You say you'd be different if this happened to you
But with your feet in my shoes I wonder what you'd do
[steel]
If it's wrong to long for lost love then I'm wrong as I can be
You say it's wrong and that may be true but it sure seems right to me
You say you'd be different if this happened to you
But with heaven at your fingertips what would you do