There came a sound concocted by demons A sound like metal and blood She's strangling cats with horses up there I've had enough, it's time to die

Do you think she's run out of resin Has she even heard of the stuff If I knew where to buy it I would, but I don't Like it or not, you're not leaving alive

So save your breath for when you die Save your time for me There's never been a time for you

I'd like to blame Vivaldi The blame is made out of dust And when the dust blows backwards it smokes and it stacks Say what you want, it's time to die

Why don't you call up all the firsts and seconds There'll be a swinging performance tonight I can explain it all when the cops come around Tomorrow night, you're not leaving alive

So save your breath for when you die Save your time for me There's never been a time for you
