

Good Morning Milo, Loving Without Argument

Sing along with the ahhs.(You know you want to.)

Please, please dont leave me.
We have everything we need
and were so near to loving without argument.
Please, Im being so sincere.
Everything we need and
were so near to loving without argument.

Summer kisses autumn from behind.
I wish the heat we had would remind you of how devoted I can be to your eyes
as they stare at me,
loving what they used to see.
Things were different.

The corners of your mouth catch my eyes
because youve left them down all night.
Its the price you pay for not holding my hand.
Remember when we were happy?
Love used to be so happy now.
Things were different then.

Things were different.
I used to sing you through the night
and youd wake up with my songs in your head.
You are changing your mind.
You must be changing your mind.
Are you changing your mind?
No, not yet.
