

Goodshirt, Fiji Baby

when we went to Hamilton, I said
"Just pretend it's a holiday" and you said
"Yep, I'll just pretend It's Fiji, Baby" you drive me up the wall sometimes, you say it's better if we spent some time away in the middle of the mid something breakdown

"so come on now
it's not a race we'll catch up when the end is near let's fall away and disappear again" you're the one I want to say that I always want to stay with you when this world's about to end you pull me through

"so come on now

"so come on now
when the end is near
