

Gorgon, Ashes and Blood

The scorching sun awakes again evaporating to the sky
Hope leaves us and flows like shifting tides From white horizons titanic legions rising from the earth breaking the sunlight

a new throne of blood forever, eradicate the heritage

Our fate is to rise, and spit on your grave made of rotten flesh and dirty lies Leading your army to their death to hear their cries You shall follow their fate in the riverbed of Styx

Charon's awaiting

For centuries you'll hear our names embraced by fear
We are Gods
made of ashes and blood

Rising like the sun
for a new day to come Find your path
through ashes and blood

Carved in stone
-our name for ages-Carved in your bones
-the tragic path of your destiny-

I must fear no one, as all has been already torn For I have lost everything, except hate

We're the ashes of creation a father's abomination We're the blood of innocent souls boiling in the ruins you created

We are Gods

We are Gods

for a new day to come
Find your path
through ashes and blood
