

Gorgon City, All Four Walls (ft. Vaults)

As the minutes turned to hours
With the fading of the day light
And the heart beat for the pale
It's turning into black and white

It's like everyday
These four walls are closing in
One light hang
I know you want, I know you like

But now the all four walls are falling down
All four walls, all four walls
But now the all four walls are falling down
All four walls, all four walls

As the days all fall together
And i pale in a fluorescent light
On the ghost I see the glory,
Give me all of it in a burning light

And in every way these four walls are closing in
One light hang
I know you want, I know you like

But now the all four walls are falling down
All four walls, all four walls
But now the all four walls are falling down
All four walls, all four walls

All you have,
All you hold
Holding now

But now the all four walls are falling down
All four walls, all four walls
But now the all four walls are falling down
All four walls, all four walls
