Gossip, Dark Lines

Heavy makeup doesn't cover up the many sleepless nights I can't hide under dark drawn on lines the circles underneath my eyes

Ooh, why me? ooh somebody tell me why? I go to parties, and all I see Are a room full of faces, staring back at me tell me why, why me?

You paint a picture of a sad and long winter oh, when you were mine. sometimes I hear you talking, your reflection in my coffee and I can't stop crying

why me?
Why me?
I go to parties, and all I see
Are a room full of faces, staring back at me tell me why, tell me why me?
ooh tell me why?
why me?
Why me?
mmmm
