

Gotthard, Angel

I need a woman, that holds on,
That gives me time to think it over,
Time for movin' on.
That's all I want, right now, by me.
I wanna meet a real heart, a true one.
Too many words, too many lies,
Bring confusion in my mind.
I gotta break out,
'cause I can't stand it anymore, no more.
More that I want, more that I need,
More that I want, more that I bleed,
Can anybody find me
Angel , angel, I'm crying out for you tonight.
Oh, angel, are you there, or in my mind?
I want you to, believe me, please take me there.
Sometimes I dream, and I wish to have a little hand to carry me
Far away from what I see.
If I only could have you, right now, by me.
I wanna face a real world, a true one.
Too many words, too many lies,
Bring confusions in my mind.
I gotta break out,
'cause I can't stand it anymore, no more.
More that I want, more that I need,
More that I want, more that I bleed.
Can anybody find me
Angel, angel, I'm crying out for you tonight.
Oh, angel, are you there or in my mind?
I want you to believe me, right now.
Angel on my mind,
You're so hard to find.
