

Gowan, One Brief Shining Moment

(Lawrence Gowan)

One brief shining moment

Your suspicious nature

Keeps you on your guard

And you learn to trust it

In a world so hard

But one day you'll erase it

And my heart will replace it

One shining moment

One brief shining moment

That's your life

Hold it

Close to mine

Hold it

One brief shining moment

With a million problems

beating down your door

Is it any wonder

That you scream, "No more!"

But your heart holds one purpose

Let it rise to the surface

One shining moment

One brief shining moment

That's your life

Hold it

Close to mine

Hold it

One brief shining moment

But your heart holds one purpose

Let it rise to the surface

One shining moment

One brief shining moment

That's your life (that's your life)

One shining moment

One brief shining moment

One shining moment

One brief shining moment

(repeat to fade)
